

SPECIAL CALL FOR BLOGS

GLOBAL SOUTH CHALLENGES TO CLIMATE CHANGE : INDIA IN FOCUS

COLLECTIVE FOR ENVIRONMENTAL ACTION BLOG

Invites submission for the CEA Blog Series on the theme

“Global South Challenges to Climate Change : India in Focus”

Introduction

Addressing the urgent need for climate conservation, this blog series delves into the gap between theory and reality in India's environmental laws and policies. It emphasizes the importance of bridging the loopholes and implementing effective solutions to tackle the pressing water crisis faced by the country and the globe. With a focus on the legal community's role, the series aims to foster discussion and propose legal solutions for a sustainable future.

The submissions are, however, not restricted to the aforesaid sub-themes, provided they fall within the ambit of the main theme and pertain to the current environmental scenario of India. Through critical analysis and legal perspectives, this blog series aims to shed light on the gaps in environmental policies and their implementation in India. By encouraging discourse and proposing practical solutions, it seeks to contribute to the ongoing efforts of bridging the gap between environmental laws and their effective execution. Together, let us strive for a sustainable future that safeguards our environment while ensuring socio-economic development.
